DEMOS & TEACHING

Dikko Faust and Esther K Smith travel as visiting artists, lecturing, demonstrating, and making collaborative projects in art centers and universities. Faust teaches letterpress at SVA. Smith teaches Artist Books at Cooper Union. They also teach private classes at Purgatory Pie Press. Extraordinary A+100 students can apply for internships.

Studying with Walter Hamady at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Faust sorted that type for weeks, made his first two books, made the paper for his third book, and then moved to New York City where he became the resident printer at the Center for Book Arts.

In 1980 Dikko Faust married Esther K Smith and Purgatory Pie Press merged with the E K Smith Museum, a museum of found art, including The Apron Collection. Their wedding invitation was their first print collaboration.

MUSEUMS, EXHIBITIONS, COLLECTIONS

Purgatory Pie Press has had solo exhibitions at:

- the library of the Metropolitan Museum
- the library of the London's Victoria & Albert Museum

A few of the many institutions that collect Purgatory Pie Press's limited editions:

- The Museum of Modern Art
- The Whitney
- The Tate
- The Walker
- The National Gallery of Art

At Purgatory Pie Press, Dikko Faust sets wood and metal type and experiments with letterpress as a printmaking medium. Smith edits and designs and hand sews books.

Faust and Smith collaborate with other artists and writers, making limited editions and artist books.

COLLABORATIONS

Faust and Smith collaborate, bouncing things back and forth. Starting with production limits -

- press size, paper size, number of colors/printings, they talk about approaches, scribble something on paper. Faust hand sets the wood and metal type and proofs the words. Smith cuts the proofs and pushes elements around on paper cut to the size of the finished piece. Faust arranges that design on the press and proofs it. They tweak spacing, try colors and papers.

An accident can solve a design problem. Fibonacci Flower began black on white. When collaborating artist Susan Happersett wore a vintage coral-pink sweater to a meeting, that became the ink color. Because that ink was on the press, Faust used it for HOW TO MAKE BOOKS proposal cover which began the design of that book.

Since the release of HOW TO MAKE BOOKS, their exhibit, which began at the book party at Cooper Union, has traveled to RISD, SVA's Design MFA Gallery, Pyramid Atlantic, Minnesota Center for the Book, Athens (NY) Cultural Center, Pratt Institute, University of Puget Sound, and the Wright Museum of Art in Wisconsin. The exhibit has changed as it's moved to include new works from MAGIC BOOKS & PAPER TOYS and THE PAPER BRIDE.

LOGO FOR INDEPENDENT BOOKSTORES

Purgatory Pie Press made the wood type logo for Greenlight Bookstore (Fort Green, Brooklyn) plus their posters, bookmarks, business cards and gift cards. For Word Bookstore (Greenpoint, Brooklyn) Purgatory Pie Press made custom greeting cards: EAT DRINK SLEEP READ WORD.

Purgatory Pie Press designs and makes letterheads, invitations, books and cards for clients.
